46 Receive Honor Of Membership

Sigma Phi Lambda Honor Society has initiated forty-six new members.

The students who received the honor of membership are Paula Long, Martha Gochenour, Linda Lynn, Gayle Dodd, Donna Blair, Judith S. Young, Juanita Crumpler, Ann Stoneburner, Pam Joffe, Pam Porter, Milton Yoder, Charlotte Ann Koch, Marie Claude Thompson, Susan Doyle, Jean Foxworth, Carol Ballard, Joan Moses, Ann Agnew, Bettilyn Dansberry, Elizabeth Stevens, and Angelo Grisso.

Other students initiated were: Joyce Rice, Jean Gandy, Patricia Coriano, Diane Balducci, Judy Turmen, Judy Peters, Jane Chambers, Ruth Gue, Agnes Burruss, Susan Oaks, Katherine Scroggins, Martha Lee, Gwen Edwards, Carole Niesz, Sandra Sheppard, Janet Hardy, Patricia Minow, Phyllis Kay Wampler, Margie Gonzales, Joanne Harris, Mary F. Hancock, Judy Pitera, Diane Hill, and Carol Gault.

The first meeting which the new members will attend will be held on May 4. At this time the old officers will give up their offices and the election of new officers will be held.

Band Rehearses Spring Concert

The Madison College Concert Band will present a Spring Concert at the Anthony-Seeger Campus School on Tuesday, April 28 at eight p.m.

The concert will feature the college woodwind quintet which will play Puccini's by A. Barthe, and Quintet, Op. 71, adagio: allegro, by Ludwig van Beethoven. Members of the quintet are Liz Stevens, flute; Ruth Monsch, clarinet; Virginia Brewer, horn; Jackie Foster, oboe; and Elenor Green, bassoon.

The band program will include On the Square, by Panella, Little Norwegian Suite by Eric Hansen, Egmont by Beethoven, Elsa's Procession to the Cathedral by Richard Wagner, Commando March by Samuel Barber, Fugal Fantasia by James Gillette, and Suite of Old American Dances by Robert Russell Bennett.

The band is under the direction of Frank Sidorfsky. Sidorfsky finished his music education at Kansas State Teachers College and obtained his Master of Music degree at Eastman School of Music in New York.

THE VILLAGERS: Bob, Jerry, and Jim.

Change In Frosh Counselors To Be Initiated By Spring Training Program

Junior-Senior Counselors have been chosen for the fall school-session 1964-65.

The Seniors chosen are: Phyllis Allen, Sandra Anderson, Martha Ann Burgoyne, Reedy Kay Clarke, Beverly Ann Collins, Helen Dias, Sandra Doyle, Mary Beth Drayer, Alice Eavey, Nina Paul Edmondson, Barbara Felber, Yvonne Fisher, Elizabeth Foresman, Martha Jane Hardy, Linda Krebs, Pamela Larsen, Mary Ellen Mewborn, Sandy Morse, Pat O'Brien, Joan Perry, Mary Ann Reichhardt, Ann Sorrels, Glinda Spainhower, Barbara Sweeny, Sheril Tadlock, Jane Turner, Ellen Wade, Sammie Wright, and Barbara Yoksas.

Juniors selected are: Mickie Anderson, Jane Bennett, Patricia Brumback, Susan Eastes, Helen Fortune, Mary Jo Gaynor, Sally Greame, Kathleen Haught, Nancy Howard, Dee Jones, Sandy Jones, Marie Lansperry, Betsy McPherson, Audrey Nicholson, Faye Pleasants, Jackie Rebel, and Diana Stratton.

These counselors were chosen in accordance with the plans for selection by Miss Nancy Lee, President of the Class of 1963. Miss Lee was dissatisfied with the method of selecting counselors for freshmen because qualifications of the students were not thoroughly considered. It was thought that there was a lack of training in the proper guidance techniques for the counselors.

The new plan provides a training period for the prospective counselors of an unusually early return to campus in the fall.

Approximately two days prior to the freshman entrance to Madison, Junior-Senior counselors will meet with Dean Garber for detailed instruction, followed by a general meeting conducted by Carol Wooten, President of Student Government.

Applications Due For Scholarships

The deadline for filing an application for a scholarship and/or loan for the 1964 Summer and for the 1964-65 Regular Session is May 1st, 1964.

All applications for renewals of financial aid or for desired new aid should be filed in the Office of Admissions and Student Aid by the above deadline. This includes the Regular Term State Teachers' Scholarships, Unfunded Scholarships, Dining Hall, Ten-Hour, and Music Service Scholarships and the National Defense Student Loans.

The General Undergraduate Scholarship will not be available for the 1964-65 session since funds were not appropriated for its continuance by the recent legislature. If students who were receiving this scholarship need to apply for other aid, they should come to the Office of Admissions and Student Aid and file their applications.

Villagers To Visit MC On Class Of '67' Day

by Jan Mohr

The Freshmen class will present a concert by The Villagers, April 29 at 8:00 p.m. in Wilson Auditorium.

The Villagers, Bob, Jim, Jerry and Dave, formed their group at the University of Richmond in 1962 and started as a group singing around their fraternity lodge and later at fraternity parties and other university social functions. The group originally began as a trio, adding the fourth man in August of 1963. They now perform at some of the local supper clubs in and around Richmond and at colleges throughout the state of Virginia.

In January 1963 the Richmond Coca Cola Company contracted the group to represent them in TV, radio, newspaper and personal appearances. The Villagers have been on six radio stations and three TV stations daily since January 1963. They also do TV commercials in Georgia and South Carolina for a bakery account in Augusta, Georgia.

Bob Dunville, one of the two lead singers, is from Richmond and a former psychology major at the University of Richmond. Bob helps to write and arrange a great deal of the material the group uses and plays a guitar.

Jim Carr, from Alexandria is the clown of the group and the other lead singer with Bob. Jim also attended the University of Richmond and now works for a men's clothing company in Richmond.

The serious one of the group, Jerry Robertson, is from Greensboro, North Carolina. Jerry was a deans' list student at the University of Richmond and is now attending a graduate school in business administration there. He plays bass for the Villagers and formerly had his own orchestra and jazz group in Greensboro.

The newest Villager, Dave Wells, is also from Greensboro. He plays lead guitar and the 5-string banjo. Dave has written and arranged several original songs the group does.

Freshmen Plan For 'Mac Beatle'

The freshman class will present a skit entitled "Mac Beatle" at the noon assembly on April 29 in Wilson auditorium as part of their class day.

The play, written by Louise Costello and her script committee, is a take off on MacBeth. The witches will be played by Peggy Armstrong, Terry Mountjoy and Jane Linthicum. Mac Beatle is portrayed by Carolyn Daniels; Banquo by Babs Peterson; Lady Mac Shafer by Caroline Carver. Students portraying freshmen are Janet Lancaster, Julia Hogg and Betty Heirlein. The sophomore will be played by Carolyn Ferguson and the junior will be Pinky Hughes.

Directors for "Mac Beatle" are Rose Budowitz and Rebecca Perdue. Stage manager is Bob Rule. Chairman of the music committee is Lynne Rowe; chairman of props is Leslie Sherman; chairman of costumes is Mary Frances Hancock; chairman of lights is Wanda Truax and chairman of scenery is Chris Nyburg.

The freshmen will have a banquet at 6:00 p.m. in Bluestone and a concert by the Villagers at 8:00 p.m. Jimmy Dee and the Diamonds will provide the music for the party at 10:15 p.m. in Keezell gym.

Breeze Corrects Mistake

As stated in the issue of the Breeze, Wednesday, April 22, the freshman may . . . on Friday . . . date until 11:30 p.m. . . . The new rule should read that freshmen may have three nights per week off campus until 10:30 p.m. with or without a date; on Friday she may date until 11:00 p.m.

Class Of '65 Elects Leaders; Matthews Is Senior President

The class of 1965 has elected their officers for next year.

The new president of the senior class is Marianne Matthews, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James P. Matthews of Millsboro, Delaware. Her major is elementary education with a concentration in history and social science. Miss Matthews' activities for her junior year are: vice president of the junior class, scholarship chairman and co-rush chairman for the Zeta Tau Alpha Social Fraternity, manager of the basketball team, and representative to the WAA Council. She is also a member of the Student Education Association. Miss Matthews was chosen as an outstanding junior and also as "Most Cooperative" in the Junior Class Mirror. Miss Matthews remarked, "I am looking forward to a wonderful year with the class of '65."

I would like to take this opportunity to thank those of you who have made it possible for me to serve you as your president."

Betty Reynolds was elected vice president. Her parents are Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Reynolds, Jr. of Norfolk, Virginia. Miss Reynolds is majoring in elementary education with a home economics concentration. During her junior year, she served as president of Gifford dormitory. Miss Reynolds is a member of Sigma Sigma Sigma Sorority in which she holds the office of Keeper of Grades.

Anne Collins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Collins of Richmond, will serve as secretary for the senior class. Her major is mathematics. Miss Collins is an assistant Junior Marshall and is the newly-elected Chaplain of A-

Please God, Save America . . .

(ACP)—See the girl. She is a pretty girl. See her checked madras skirt. And cotton blouse. And Weejuns. And puffed out hair. She is a college girl.

See the boy. He is a college man. See his tapered slacks. And Ghant shirt with the loop. And cordovans. With no socks.

See them at a dance. Watch them bird and yell and wave paper cups in the air. It is hot and noisy. See them after the dance in the girl's parking lot. They are in his car with the loud radio.

Now it is 12:00. See the girl run from the car. She must get inside her dorm on time. She is a big girl.

See them in class. The boy is slumped in the chair. He is asleep. The girl is slumped in her chair. She is asleep too. The professor is very dull.

See them studying. It is 4:30 in the morning. They have a test today. See the little pills. They keep them awake. See the bottles under the boy's bed. They put him to sleep.

Now they are taking the test. See the little pieces of paper in their laps. They help them pass the test. It is hard.

They are college students. Their adult friends call them "Young men and women." And "Future leaders of America."

God save America.

LITTLE MAN ON CAMPUS

Letters To The Editor

Student Stresses Physical Fitness

Dear Editor,

Physical fitness has become almost a household word. More emphasis is placed upon this elusive quality at the present than in any other period since the war years. Benjamin Disraeli once said that the strength and well-being of a nation rest with the strength and well-being of its people. And yet, as the "leaders of tomorrow" and as the educators of tomorrow, how can we ignore this factor of physical fitness as a necessity to the total well-being of our Nation's youth, adults, and to ourselves. . . . but, we do.

Many opportunities are available to us to increase and develop physical fitness, but each individual must seize this opportunity for himself. Each of us should assume this responsibility and realize its immediate and long range contribution to our health and our general physical, mental, and emotional well-being. Many organized programs of activity are offered us so that we may enjoy the benefits and rewards that are reaped through participation in such recreational activity.

Recreation and maintenance of physical fitness are not merely means of occupying leisure time, but have a definite contribution to make to the individual who seeks the benefits. Recreational activities not only foster this physical fitness, but also provide opportunities for social growth, emotional expression, relief of tension, and your own pleasure.

Oma Gifford

Editor's Note: The above letter was written as part of the writer's Physical Education senior project.

Crowded Quarters Cause Conflicts

Dear Editor,

Equal in importance to the academic quality of Madison College is the importance of the atmosphere in which we strive to achieve academic excellence. This atmosphere is the dormitory room where the majority of the students spend their study time if they find it comfortable to work there.

The academic quality of a student's work can be lessened by conflicts within the dorm when three girls are crowded into a room which only has closet and living space for two. With three girls living so closely together, there is a need for extra co-operation in sharing responsibilities for the cleanliness and neatness of the room. However, the unanticipated presence of a third girl may cause antagonism if they dislike one another. Misunderstandings occur, and unhappiness for all concerned is the result. Living in such a strained atmosphere makes studying difficult.

Everyone who is qualified is entitled to a college education, and at a boarding school, to a room in which there is a place for her clothes and belongings. This room is her home, and she is entitled to some comfort when there. With the forthcoming drawings for dormitory rooms, let's hope that next year the rooms will not be overcrowded. Achieving an education in a desirable atmosphere is necessary for a happy college experience.

Missy Belote Is Elected President Of Virginia Home Economics Club

Miss Belote, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Carlton Belote of Virginia Beach, was chosen to represent the home economics chapter of Madison because of her outstanding achievements in the home economics field. She is an active member of the Frances Sale Home Economics Club and served as sergeant of arms this year. She has also headed several committees in the club.

During the Virginia Home Economics Convention of March, 1963, Miss Belote was awarded the honor of outstanding home economics business student at Madison College. This award included an all expense paid trip to the convention held at Hotel Roanoke, Roanoke, Virginia. Miss Belote is a member of Sigma Sigma Sigma social sorority. Presently, she is serving as president of Phi Omicron Tau, Madison's honorary home economics fraternity. She has also served as Senior Counselor for arriving freshmen students on campus.

Others from the local home economics club attending the convention were: Joyce Whittaker, senior; Jo Saunders, junior; Betsy Denny, junior; and Pat Thomas, sophomore, who was elected as secretary of the VHEA College Club Chapter. Miss Martha Sieg, advisor, also accompanied the group.

Writer Urges Student Action

by Marshall Cook

A few weeks ago, I wrote on the situation of the men students in regard to males' not being able to live on campus. Since then two males, Bob Rule and Tom Warwick, followed up my suggestion and did something about the present situation. Warwick and Rule first got together a petition with approximately seventy names which stated: we the undersigned would like to be on the Madison College Campus as full-time rooming students. They then presented the petition to the President of the College. President Miller greeted said representatives in a cordial, diplomatic manner. He explained in great detail why the men students up until this time had not been allowed to live on college grounds. He further explained that in 1960 plans for a men's dormitory were ready to go into construction but that the State Legislature blocked this move by a close vote.

President Miller then stated his desires for the male students to be on campus in respect to "in college living." He likewise concurred that because of such number the men would best locate themselves, as a start, in one of the abandoned sorority houses, say "Shenandoah." This, the President said could be accomplished in all possibility by the '65-'66 session.

By making the above statement and also in approving the decision of the Student-Faculty Committee in regard to dating, President Miller has displayed true understanding and leadership. By his actions, he also further proved my hypothesis about improving the students' lot. This hypothesis is that the only way for any administration to know what the students under them want is through petition, written and oral statements, as well as protests and comments.

The administration at Madison is only too happy to be fair and liberal-minded if the students are willing to take a responsible and active part in the affairs which concern them. It is time that we as students showed our appreciation for a really good administration and take part with them in the building of a "truly liberal college."

Poor Record Is Fault Of Youth

Once again in 1963, young drivers had the worst safety record of any age group, according to report by The Travelers Insurance Companies.

The report, issued annually since 1931 except during the war years, is compiled by The Travelers from information provided by state motor vehicle departments.

A Travelers spokesman pointed out that drivers under 25 years of age comprise only about 15 per cent of all licensed drivers in the United States, in spite of which, 15,400 (or more than 29 per cent) of the drivers involved in fatal accidents in 1963 were under 25 years of age. This represented no significant change in performance, since this same age group accounted for 28.9 per cent of all highway deaths in 1962.

The Travelers report shows that young men and women under 25 were also involved in a great number of non-fatal highway mishaps. In 1963 the percentage was 26.1 as compared with 27.3 per cent in 1962.

Our senior citizens — drivers 65 years of age and over — also made a poor showing. In fact these older drivers were involved in 8.1 per

Critic Praises Stratford's Production Of Beckett's Play "Waiting For Godot"

by Pamela Palmer

The Stratford Players' excellent performance of Samuel Beckett's "Waiting For Godot" must have upset the mental equilibrium of a good proportion of the audience and set this same audience to wondering just what the human race is doing here.

The play, so typical of Beckett's style, is both comic and melancholy, yet the banter which exists throughout the performance is struck quite dead at the very end by a somber note—the waiting for Godot, who will probably never come.

The story itself involves two hobos, completely unattached to anything but each other, who are undergoing a mental struggle in an effort to find a meaning for their existence. They wait by a tree for Godot, whom they feel will resolve their confusion. Each day, near sunset, a messenger comes to tell them that Godot will not come today, but will certainly come tomorrow. Godot, then is the meaning of life, and the strength that keeps the two vagabonds by the tree, always waiting, is the spirit of optimism that allows man to deceive himself into believing that tomorrow will be better than today.

The two bums, Vladimir and Estragon, might well represent the ponderings of man, often muddled by paradoxical thoughts. Pozzo and Lucky, master and slave, could be interpreted as the turmoil of the unthinking masses, struggles for power, the bitter oppressed, the power of chance, etc.

The play is provocative, but it muddles rather than clarifies, it eludes rather than concludes. Then, too, it is rather incredible that two derelicts with such obviously inhibited thinking processes could, or would, attempt to ponder such deep thoughts as the meaning of man.

The mood is upsetting. It is doubtful that anyone who is concentrating on the play enough to follow the story could remain impervious to it. It gives one the uneasy feeling of laughing at something that is tragic to its very base. The mood travels as a weird restlessness creeping through the audience, even as they laugh at Beckett's pathetic humor.

The entire cast and crew of the production deserves a pat on the back for characters appropriately cast, lines read effectively, a mood skillfully created, indeed, a job well done.

Linda Anderson and Carolyn Rose are shown in a scene from WAITING FOR GODOT which was presented by Stratford Players on April 17 and 18.

Shangri-La Called 'Miraculous Event'

by Susan Doyle

The students and faculty of Madison College will have a chance to insure their eternal youth and beauty on May 2, 1964. This miraculous event will occur at 8:30 p.m. in Keezel Gym with the assistance of the Stu Gu Social Committee.

What is this plan for rejuvenation? It is Shangri-La, the land of mythical enchantment—the theme of the annual May Day Dance. Music for this spell will be played by Dan Ramsey and his orchestra. The pass to this enchanted kingdom is a bid sold in the P. O. lobby from April 27 through May 2. The price is $3.50.

We would in all fairness have to warn all those admitted to Shangri-La—the spell exists only during the dance; the enchantment wears off at midnight. But come anyway, and enjoy it while it lasts.

MC Church Groups Install Officers For Coming Year

Two religious groups of Madison College have chosen their officers for the school session 1964-65.

The Wesley Foundation installed their council on Sunday, April 5. President for the coming year will be Anne Raley. Serving with her are Jean Perry, vice president in charge of Sunday evening programs; Liz Hudson, vice president in charge of membership; Janet Lancaster, recording secretary; Sara Holden, corresponding secretary; and Helen Schermerhorn as treasurer.

The Baptist Student Union installed its officers at their annual spring banquet April 8, 1964. The officers installed are: Eleanor Slate, president; Sondra Torian, social chairman; Phyllis Thacker, secretary; and Gay Heys, librarian.

Authorities Announce Dates For Junior Proficiency Test

The Junior Proficiency Examination, required of all juniors, will be given Tuesday, September 15, at 8 a.m.

Juniors should return to college by this time in order to complete this test. The test will be given three times a year: at the beginning of the first semester, at the beginning of the second semester, and once during the summer, at a time to be announced. Please be sure to take the test at the time appropriate for you as it will not be administered at any other time.

Fraternities Elect Officers To Direct Activities, 1964-65

The two men's fraternities, Sigma Delta Rho and Phi Alpha Epsilon, have elected officers for 1964-1965.

David Behrens from Broadway heads Sigma Delta Rho as president. Dave, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl D. Behrens, is a general science major. He is recording secretary of Student Government Organization and secretary of the Interfraternity Council. John Younkens, from Harrisonburg, vice president; Milton Yoder from Ypsilanti, Michigan, recording secretary; Jackie Foster from Front Royal, treasurer; and Andy Shifflett from Penn Laird, sergeant of arms complete the slate. The Interfraternity Council representatives are Milton Yoder and Jackie Foster.

Phi Alpha Epsilon's president is Wendell Turner from Shenandoah. Wendell is a psychology major and a sociology minor. He is vice president of the Men's Athletic Association and played on the college basketball team. The other officers are vice president, Tony Banano from Washington, D. C.; treasurer, Jerry Walters from Mount Jackson; secretary, Steve Curran from Brooklyn, New York; corresponding secretary, Marshall Cook from Alexandria. Cary Clayton from Grove, New Jersey, and Johnny Bryant from Natural Bridge are the Interfraternity Council representatives.

Handbell Ringers To Appear At Asbury Methodist Church

The English Potomac Handbell Ringers will be at the Asbury Memorial Methodist Church, Main Street, on Sunday, April 26, at 5 p.m. to give a performance.

This group, from Washington, D. C., will be making its first appearance here in Harrisonburg on Sunday. The fifteen members of the choir have appeared at many churches in and around Washington, D. C.

The Sesame Club elected officers for the coming school session 1964-65 on March 20. Miss Janice Pfoutz was elected president. Other officers elected were: Sue Allen, vice president; Ann Tourgee, secretary; Karen Bowman, treasurer; and Mary Jane Branner, reporter.

The officers were installed at a banquet held at the Belle Meade Restaurant on Friday, April 3.

During the meeting on March 20, representatives for various school organizations were also elected. Judy Young, Mary Jane Branner, Cecilian Stewart, Mary Jane Shockey were elected as Student Government representatives; Karen Bowman and Leona Hooke were elected to Honor Council; JoAnne Wenger was elected to Standards; Sue Allen was elected to the Women's Athletic Association; and Betty Wilson was elected to represent the Recreation Council.

The Sesame Club is a social organization for women day students. The purpose of the club is to promote the welfare of the members and to draw them into closer relationship with the college and its activities.

Pace Receives 1st Award From Pi Omega Pi Society

The Beta Nu Chapter of Pi Omega Pi had a dinner meeting at the Holiday Inn Restaurant on Thursday, April 23 to initiate three new members, Merle Kay, Mildred Graybill, and Mrs. Nancy Chapman.

Linda Pace received the first scholarship award to be given by Beta Nu Chapter to one of its own members. This award, in the form of a trophy, is given to the member who has the highest previous semester average.

Pi Omega Pi, a national honorary fraternity, is for students of business education. In order for a student in business education to become a member, she must meet the qualifications of fifteen or more hours of college credit in business and education, and have a high scholastic rating. Membership is by invitation.
